

DUVEL BARREL AGED

Fresh Duvel has been maturing quietly in the bourbon barrels since the beginning of November. Presumably – let's not forget that taste cannot be rushed – the beer will have evolved perfectly by June 2017. By that time, the Duvel will have matured in the barrels for over six to seven month.

The exciting evolution in taste is the result of two major factors: the oak barrels that were charred on the inside produce smoky vanilla flavors. In addition to this, the wood has been impregnated with the original bourbon (6 to 7 liters per wooden barrel) resulting in a sensational flavor with hints of caramel.
