

ACCADEMIA AMATIA RED

Amatia is the name of a Nereid. The name Nereid comes from ancient Greek and means 'flow', 'fluid' or 'liquid'.

According to Greek mythology, the Nereids are sea nymphs, daughters of Nereus and the Oceanina Doris. They were considered immortal creatures with a benevolent nature.

Amatia includes a selection of everyday and easy-to-pair wines.

Colour and appearance: Ruby red with violet hues. Bouquet: Notes of red berry fruit (particularly raspberry and currant) and balanced herbaceous and humus scents. Taste: Dry, persistent with a moderately tannic finish.
