

SAUVIGNON BLANC RAIF

Castelfeder is a renowned vineyard in the Alto Adige region of northern Italy, known for its commitment to crafting high-quality wines that reflect the unique characteristics of the area's alpine climate and diverse terroir. Their Sauvignon Blanc Raif is an exceptional white wine, characterized by its fresh and aromatic profile. It offers vibrant notes of grapefruit, green apple, and tropical fruits, complemented by subtle herbal and mineral nuances.

The taste is intense and complex, with balanced acidity that gives the wine a refreshing structure. On the palate, there is a delightful interplay of citrus and exotic fruits like mango and passion fruit, with an elegant, long finish. The wine's lively acidity and crisp finish make it an ideal pairing for seafood, asparagus dishes, and fresh salads. Castelfeder's Sauvignon Blanc Raif is a testament to the winery's dedication to producing refined and elegant wines.
